

Our North West Lower Michigan Synod Bishop—Dr. Craig Alan Satterlee—is with us today! Bishop Satterlee finds visiting the congregations of our synod to preach the Word and administer the Sacraments a great joy and delight. He and his wife Cathy are genuinely happy to be with us.

Ordained in 1987, Bishop Satterlee served congregations in Upstate New York and Michigan. He served as professor of homiletics (preaching) at Lutheran School of Theology at Chicago, dean of the ACTS Doctor of Ministry in Preaching Program and adjunct professor in the Department of Theology at The University of Notre Dame prior to his election as bishop. He continues to serve as adjunct professor at Lutheran School of Theology at Chicago, and Lutheran Theological Seminary at Gettysburg. You can learn more about Bishop Satterlee at <http://craigasatterlee.com>

When they arrive, Bishop Satterlee and Cathy will want to settle in and see the worship space. Since the bishop is focused on worship and concentrating on the sermon, conversations on other matters are best had after the service. Bishop Satterlee either holds a forum as a part of his visit or is around after the service to meet people and answer questions informally. During worship, Cathy Satterlee does her best to be available to the bishop if needed,

Bishop Satterlee is legally blind and generally leads worship from memory. Memorizing is a prayerful and time-consuming discipline for the bishop. The bishop is increasingly inviting the assembly to put their bulletins down to watch and listen, and explaining that when the bishop's words differ from what is printed, the bishop's are the "right" words. In fact, since the bishop has a reservoir of liturgical texts in his head and at his disposal, he has been known to spontaneously yet intentionally change the liturgy.

In keeping with The Use of the Means of Grace, the bishop's default practice is to commune baptized children. Children and adults who receive a blessing can aid the bishop by folding their arms across their chests when they come forward.

Bishop Satterlee genuinely desires to meet you. Please understand that he cannot recognize people by sight and sometimes by voice. When you greet Bishop Satterlee, it is best to remind him of your name.

Although we call this "The Bishop's Visit," Bishop Satterlee is our synod's pastor and he and Cathy are among us as partners in the gospel and a brother and sister in Christ. Please welcome them!

Our North West Lower Michigan Synod Bishop—Dr. Craig Alan Satterlee—is with us today! Bishop Satterlee finds visiting the congregations of our synod to preach the Word and administer the Sacraments a great joy and delight. He and his wife Cathy are genuinely happy to be with us.

Ordained in 1987, Bishop Satterlee served congregations in Upstate New York and Michigan. He served as professor of homiletics (preaching) at Lutheran School of Theology at Chicago, dean of the ACTS Doctor of Ministry in Preaching Program and adjunct professor in the Department of Theology at The University of Notre Dame prior to his election as bishop. He continues to serve as adjunct professor at Lutheran School of Theology at Chicago, and Lutheran Theological Seminary at Gettysburg. You can learn more about Bishop Satterlee at <http://craigasatterlee.com>

When they arrive, Bishop Satterlee and Cathy will want to settle in and see the worship space. Since the bishop is focused on worship and concentrating on the sermon, conversations on other matters are best had after the service. Bishop Satterlee either holds a forum as a part of his visit or is around after the service to meet people and answer questions informally. During worship, Cathy Satterlee does her best to be available to the bishop if needed,

Bishop Satterlee is legally blind and generally leads worship from memory. Memorizing is a prayerful and time-consuming discipline for the bishop. The bishop is increasingly inviting the assembly to put their bulletins down to watch and listen, and explaining that when the bishop's words differ from what is printed, the bishop's are the "right" words. In fact, since the bishop has a reservoir of liturgical texts in his head and at his disposal, he has been known to spontaneously yet intentionally change the liturgy.

In keeping with The Use of the Means of Grace, the bishop's default practice is to commune baptized children. Children and adults who receive a blessing can aid the bishop by folding their arms across their chests when they come forward.

Bishop Satterlee genuinely desires to meet you. Please understand that he cannot recognize people by sight and sometimes by voice. When you greet Bishop Satterlee, it is best to remind him of your name.

Although we call this "The Bishop's Visit," Bishop Satterlee is our synod's pastor and he and Cathy are among us as partners in the gospel and a brother and sister in Christ. Please welcome them!

