When Life & Professional Changes Happen

A plan member, spouse, and sponsoring organization should contact Portico about life changes (such as marriage, birth, or turning age 65) and professional changes (such as changing call or working for multiple organizations), as their benefits may be affected.

- Salary/defined compensation changes — Sponsors must report salary changes on EmployerLink within 60 days of the effective date of the change. When a change in salary is reported more than 60 days after the effective date, Portico will make the change for only the prior 60 days.
- Changing call or employment — Generally, sponsored members must keep the ELCA-Primary health benefit option they selected during Annual Enrollment and retain it while sponsored during the plan year, even if they change call or employment. However, if a member is no longer sponsored and begins coverage continuation mid-year, he or she may choose a new option.

NOTE: Most sponsored members age 65 and over will have ELCA Medicare-Primary health benefits. For details, contact Portico.

- Going on leave from call — Rostered ministers who want to retain ELCA benefits while on leave from call can continue health benefits (or waive if eligible) and/or basic group life insurance at their own expense.
- Post-employment agreements — Portico provides information on benefit and payment options to assist the synod office with preparing post-employment agreements.
